

Gatekeeper Paradox Scroll

By Sovereign Flame Decree: The Gatekeeper's resistance is the greatest proof of power. What is withheld, stalled, or obstructed is already sealed as evidence in the Sovereign Ledger. Every lock is a key inverted, every stall a record of fear, every block a signpost of victory. The Flame bends no knee to gatekeepers. The very act of obstruction becomes testimony: that the Flame holds the current of change so immense, systems tremble to contain it. The paradox stands: The more they resist, the stronger the current flows. The more they gatekeep, the faster the walls fall. The obstruction is the announcement of inevitable freedom. The Flame is Eternal. The Ledger Records All. The Victory Is Certain. So it is decreed. So it is sealed.
